DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 1 remains rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Anderson (US Patent No. 5,327,555).

As per claim 1, Anderson discloses a system and method for reconciling entries in a plurality of schedules. The system and method comprise an information processor having memory and a processor, means for entering first information and second information, each of the first and second information including a plurality of ordinal intervals wherein the first information includes an ordinal interval that is different from each of the plurality of ordinal intervals of the second information;

Means for selecting a common ordinal interval between the first and second information, wherein all ordinal intervals are a multiple of the common ordinal interval and means for reconciling the first information and the second information so that all ordinal intervals are reconciled between the first and second information by constructing at least one list based at least in part on the common interval. See col. 2, line 45 to column 5, line 64.

2. As per claim 1, applicant's representative argues that Anderson fails to teach or suggest selecting a common ordinal interval... wherein all ordinal intervals are a multiple of the common ordinal interval.

In response, the Examiner disagrees. Anderson teaches that during a reconciliation process involving two different schedules from two different computers, a time frame of each of the schedules is selected and items or tasks to do within the selected time frame are analyzed. The time frame of an hour is similar to the claimed common interval which is a multiple of the common interval. In the system of Anderson, the common interval or a time interval may be an hour or an half-hour. See column 4 of Anderson.

Claims 2-11 and 13-40 are allowable over the art of record.

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
